

Privacy Policy

Rabina is committed to complying with the terms of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and to the responsible and secure use of your data. Rabina has a legitimate interest in processing personal data to provide counselling services.

Your privacy is very important to me and you can be confident that your personal information will be kept safe and secure and will only be used for the purposes it was given to me. I adhere to current data Protection legislation, including the General data Protection Regulation (EU/2016/679) (the GDPR), the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Privacy and Electronic Communication (EC Directive) Regulations 2003.

This privacy notice tells you what I will do with your personal information from initial point of contact through to after your therapy has ended, including:

- Why I am able to process your information and what purposes I am processing it for.
- Whether you have to provide it to me.
- How long I store it for.
- Whether there are other recipients of your personal information.
- Whether I intend to transfer it to another country.
- Whether I do automated decision-making or profiling, and
- Your data Protection rights.

I am happy to talk through any questions you might have About my data Protection policy and you can contact me via email on rabina@sereniquecounselling.co.uk

‘Data controller’ is the term used to describe the person/organisation that collects and stores and has responsibility for people’s personal data. In this instance, the data controller is me.

I am registered with the Information Commissioner's Office ZB891482.

I am registered online. My phone number is: 07763073190. My email address is:

rabina@sereniquecounselling.co.uk

My lawful basis for holding and using your personal information

The GDPR states that I must have a lawful basis for processing your personal data.

There are different lawful bases depending on the stage at which I am processing your data. I have explained these below:

If you have had therapy with me and now it has ended, I will use legitimate interest as my lawful basis for holding and using your personal information.

If you are currently having therapy or if you are in contact with me to consider therapy, I will process your personal data where it is necessary for the performance of our contract.

The GDPR also makes sure that I look after any sensitive personal information that you may disclose to me appropriately. This type of information is called 'special category personal information'. The lawful basis for me processing any special categories of personal information is that it is for provision of Health treatment (in this case counselling) and necessary for a contract with a Health professional (in this case, a contract between you and me).

How I use your information

Initial contact

When you contact me with an enquiry about my counselling services I will collect information to help me satisfy your enquiry. This will include; Name, DOB, GP details and any medical-related issues. Alternatively, your GP or other Health professional may send me your details when making a referral or parent or trusted individual may give me your details when making an enquiry.

If you decide not to proceed I will ensure all your personal data is deleted within two weeks. If you would like me to delete this information sooner, just let me know.

While you are accessing counselling

Rest assured that everything you discuss with me is confidential. That confidentiality will only be broken if:

- I believe you or others to be in danger or at serious risk of being harmed
- I am required to do so by subpoena (court order)
- You imply involvement in or knowledge of an act of terrorism, Money laundering, Drug trafficking or behaviours that may, in my opinion, lead to harm or neglect of children and/or vulnerable adults.

I will always try to speak to you about this first, unless there are safeguarding issues that prevent this.

I will keep a record of your personal details to help the counselling services run smoothly. These details are securely on an encrypted software device and are not shared with any third party.

I will keep digital factual notes of each session, these are kept on a secure encrypted file.

For security reasons I do not retain text messages for more than two days. If there is relevant information contained in a text message I will add this information to your digital notes. Likewise, any email correspondence will be deleted after two days if it is not important. If necessary I will keep this in your digital notes.

After counselling as ended

Once counselling as ended your records will be kept for 7 years from the end of our contact with each other and are then securely destroyed. If you want me to delete your information sooner than this, please let me know via email at

rabina@sereniquecounselling.co.uk

Third party recipients of personal data

I sometimes share personal data with third parties, for example where I have contracted with a supplier to carry out specific tasks. In such cases I have carefully selected partners I work with. I take great care to ensure that I have a contract with the third party that states what they are allowed to do with the data I share with them. I ensure that they do not use your information in any way other than the task for which they have been contracted. This includes:

- My clinical supervisor, who supports my professional development and is bound by confidentiality
- HMRC for tax and financial compliance
- Information Commissioner's Office in the event of a lawful request or data protection investigation
- Secure digital providers used to manage emails, records or scheduling.

Your rights

I try to be as open as I can be in terms of giving people access to their personal information. You have a right to ask me to delete your personal information, to limit how I use your personal information, or to stop processing your personal information. You also have a right to ask for a copy of any information that I hold about you and to object to the use of your personal data in some circumstances. You can read more about your rights at ico.org.uk/your-data-matters.

If I do hold information about you I will:

- Give you a description of it and where it came from
- Tell you why I am holding it, tell you how long I will store your data and I made this decision
- Tell you who it could be disclosed to
- Let you have a copy of the information in an intelligible form

You can also ask me at any time to correct any mistakes there may be in the personal information I hold about you.

To make a request for any personal information I may hold about you, please put the request in writing addressing it to: rabina@sereniquecounselling.co.uk

If you have any complaint about how I handle your personal data please do not hesitate to get in touch with me by emailing on the contact details given above. I would welcome any suggestions for improving my data protection procedures.

If you want to make a formal complaint about the way I have processed your personal information you can contact the ICO which is the statutory body that oversees data protection law in the UK. For more information go to ico.org.uk/make-a-complaint.

Data Security

I take security of the data I hold about you very seriously and as such I take every effort to make sure it is kept secure by using encrypted devices and software.
